ALL IS READY IN THE EAST

MOST PROMISING RACING SEASON SINCE 1908
TO OPEN COMING THURSDAY.

Six Hundred Horses Quatered at Maryland Courses in Preparation for Inauguration of Bowie Meeting—Eastern Contingent in Condition to Race.

Baltimore, Md., March 27.—With six hundred thoroughbreds assembled at Prince George's Park and the neighboring race tracks of Laurel and Benning to fill its races, the first spring session of the Southern Maryland Agricultural Association, which will begin at Bowie next Thursday, to run twelve days, promises lively diversion for the horse-loving sportsmen of Baltimore, Washington, Philadelphia and New York. The meeting will be the first of the eastern season under the auspices of the Jockey Club of New York. Bowie was taken into the Jockey Club's fold last winter and assigned the dates in the eastern schedule formerly utilized by the James-town Jockey Club. After the eastern horses have completed the circuit of the Maryland and New York race tracks they will come back to Bowie in November to finish what promises to be the most brilliant season of eastern racing since 1908.

The horses which will take part in the spring meeting will carry the colors of the leading sportsmen of the east and west who support racing on the Atlantic seaboard and many of them are already quartered at Prince George's Park, the stabling accommodations of which have been vastly amplified since the inaugural meeting of last October. Those at Benning and Laurel constitute the overflow which could not be taken care of within the Bowie enclosure and which will be brought to the track from day to day as the meeting progresses in special horse cars contracted for by the Bowie management.

These horses wintered for the most part about New York, Baltimore and Washington and, thanks to an unusually favorable spell of training weather since the first of February, they are hard, fit and ready to hold their own from the start with the winter track campaigners that have come up from the south. The forward condition of the eastern horses insures a keenly contested racing and speculation and guarantees in advance the success of the first meeting at Prince George's Park under the auspices of the Jockey Club.

Among the horsemen prominent in the east and elsewhere whose colors will be seen at Bowie this spring and in the Maryland meetings that are to follow the Prince George's Park session are August Belmont, chairman of the Jockey Club; R. T. Wilson, president of the Saratoga Association; Harry Payne Whitney, Capt. E. B. Cassatt, Gifford A. Goddard, Clarence H. Robbins, Herbert L. Pratt, Richard F. Carman, Charles Fleischmann, J. S. P. Randolph, Capt. C. K. Rockwell, Capt. Philip H. Walker, Col. R. L. Parr, Dr. J. S. Tyce, William L. Oliver, David J. Leary, Frank J. Nolan, Frederick Johnson, William Garth, David Gideon, Thomas Clyde, Alfred Hennen Morris, Robert Walden, Capt. William F. Carman, Samuel Ross, A. E. Sprackels, W. S. Diffenderfer, Ivan Fox, James McLaughlin, Charles T. Patterson, Edward McBride, Amos Turner, J. H. Mead, J. M. Zimmer, H. S. Kearney, H. G. Bedwell, H. O. Comstock, Joseph E. Davis, Frederick Lewin, Richard E. Watkins, J. W. Hedrick, W. R. Cox, Albert Simons, Samuel C. Lathrop, George W. Langdon, Joseph Marrone, James Fitzsimmons, Michael J. Leonard, Anthony L. Aste, Richard Miller, Frederick T. Miller, Robert I. Miller, Frank Frisbie, W. T. Ryan, Thomas Fortune Ryan, James S. O'Neil, Henry T. Oxnard, William De Gueons, George M. Odum, J. H. Lott, F. J. Coleman, James F. Johnson and W. H. Tulley.

Some of the famous eastern horses that have been fitted for the meeting include Buskin, winner of last season's Metropolitan Handicap; Flying Fairy, winner of the Bowie at Pimlico last fall; Garbage and Trial by Jury, two promising three-year-olds; Flittergold, Stronboli, G. M. Miller, Spruist, Isadora, Dr. Larrie, Caribide, Star Gaze, Headmast, Razzano, The Masquerader, Boxer, Harry Shaw, Slumber II, and Hank.

Mr. Carman, Mr. Belmont, Mr. Whitney, Colonel Parr, Captain Cassatt, Mr. Nolan and James F. Johnson will show the best of their two-year-olds that are ready to race and, inasmuch as Bowie will have no competition nearer than Kentucky at any time during the twelve-day session and the competition of Kentucky only toward the end, the best eastern jockeys will report at Prince George's Park next Thursday.

Prominent among these riders are Eddie Dugan, who has just returned from Europe and signed with Mr. Belmont for the season of 1915; James Butwell, who will ride the brilliant Roamer in the $10,000 Kentucky Handicap at Douglas Park; John Loftus, engaged for the year with Schuyler L. Parsons and Harry K. Knapp; J. McAlister, C. Burlingame, W. Ural, S. Davis, E. Ambrose, J. McFadden, and his elder brother, Tommy; H. T. Nolan, H. C. Hopkins, M. Nathan, W. Ober, C. Peak, C. Grand, R. Troxler, J. Connor, J. Dreyer, C. Fairbrother, W. Lilley, the star lightweight of the recent New Orleans meeting, and K. Karriek.

Besides doubling the stabling capacity at the Bowie track over winter, General Manager James F. O'Hara and Track Superintendent Thomas Strahan, of Benning memory, have made many improvements in the well-laid out track. The rough places complained of last fall, and inevitable consequence of starting racing on a course that had not had a winter's seasoning, have been smoothed away and the horses that proves unable to accomplish a mile in 1:30 or better after the meeting begins will have to forego all pretension to class. It is predicted by horsemen who have looked the course over this week that the winner of the inaugural Handicap, the prospective opening-day feature, will have to show seven furlongs in 1:26 or better.

The fine weather now prevailing is being availed of by the horsemen at Bowie in getting their charges ready for the opening day. Horses which have been racing in the south during the winter do not need much work, as they have been raced in shape, and a few winding-up gallops is all that is necessary to put them on edge.

Every morning the track is crowded. The most notable performance yesterday morning was probably that of Myrtle May and Humida, which worked together a half in 49, and three-quarters in 1:17, after which Myrtle May ran away two miles. The following moves were noted:

Best Bib and Tucker—Three-eighths in 40 1/2.
Boxer—Half mile in 58.
Charlestonian—Three-quarters in 1:28.
Bartworth—Three-quarters in 1:22.
Delegate—Half mile in 54.
Estimable—Three-eighths in 41.
Ford Mai—Half mile in 54.
Gallop—Five-eighths in 1:12.
Gloamer—Quarter mile in 24.
Harry Shaw—Five-eighths in 1:00 1/2.
J. B. Harrell—Half mile in 53 1/2.
J. J. Lillis—Three-quarters in 1:28.
Jack Hanover—Three-eighths in 39 1/2.
Norse King—Half mile in 55.
Northern—Three-eighths in 38 1/2.

HARKING BACK TO THE BEGINNING OF THE KENTUCKY DERBY

Louisville, Ky., March 27.—To look back from this year of 1915 to 1875, the season the first Kentucky Derby was run at Churchill Downs, is to cover a period of 41 racing seasons, during which time the American turf has passed through many vicissitudes. In many states of the union legislation has driven racing to other localities and tracks never even dreamed of in the early seventies have been opened up to turfmen in place of those of long ago.

The 41 years covered by the history of the Kentucky Derby have seen the coming and going of J. R. Haggin, who broke all records as a breeder of thoroughbred horses and no doubt set a mark in this respect that will endure for all time to come. It has also seen the passing into history of such fashionable racing properties as Jerome Park, Long Branch, Washington Park and Sheepshead Bay and the beginning and end of James R. Keene's phenomenal career as a turfman, he being the one man that the winners of the horses he raced would alone have made him a millionaire.

In this period also came that great patron of the sport, Pierre Lorillard, who expended his wealth freely to secure the best of horses and who is the only man who has ever won the English Derby with an American-bred horse, Messrs. Haggin, Lorillard, Keene and the great race tracks named above have all passed with the fleeting years, but the Kentucky Derby has never yet missed a running in the month of May from 1875 down to the present time, and has always been decided on the track it was first run over.

Its four decades have witnessed the passing of many big turf events, including its one-time western rival, the American Derby. This year, with its sixty-eight entries from which the field will come, it will be run on Saturday, May 8, the opening day of the twelve-day spring meeting of the New Louisville Jockey Club, which will come to a close on Friday, May 21, on which afternoon the Kentucky Oaks is to be run.

It was a bright sunny day on May 17, 1875, when the first Kentucky Derby was decided. There were forty-two entries for this race and the subscribers embraced Gen. Abe Buford, Gen. W. G. Harding, E. B. Harper, A. Keene, Richards, H. P. McGrath, H. B. Chestnut, J. W. Hunt, Reynolds, Woodford, Springfield, Green B. Clay, William Cottrell, George R. Rice, Charles Peive, Charles A. Lewis, John W. Miller, Withers & Bruce, J. B. Rhodes, Shawhan & Bowen, A. Hawkins, Samuel J. Salyers, James A. Grinstead, R. Owens, J. T. Williams, Allen Bashford, Gen. J. F. Robinson, R. C. Morgan, A. B. Lewis & Co., Daniel Switzer, James and A. C. Franklin, James Davis, George W. Darden, W. H. Gordon, J. H. Morgan and John H. Stone.

Of these who constituted a representation of leading turfmen of that day, the only one now alive is Capt. J. T. Williams, who lives near Spring Station in Woodford county, this state, and who won the Derby with Joe Cotton in 1875. He also ran second three times in the big race—in 1876 with Creamer, in 1905 with Rant's Horn and in 1911 with Governor Gray. Capt. Williams failed in the Derby with two horses that made considerable turf history in later years, they being Vera Cruz and Bob Miles, which ran unplaced in the event in 1877 and 1884, respectively.

Of these surviving officers or directors of the Louisville Jockey Club the season the first Kentucky Derby was run is Major J. M. Womack of this city, who was then treasurer of the association and who probably is the only living man who has never missed seeing this classic event of Kentucky decided in its long history of twice a score of years.

Col. M. Lewis Clark, the club's first president and William Murphy, the first secretary, have now been dead many years and all the directors except Major Womack have long since passed away, these embracing among others of distinction Gov. L. P. Blackburn, John Churchill, Gen. E. H. Murphy, and Hon. Chas. D. Jacobs, one of the most popular men in the city of Louisville ever had.

The first running of the Derby was marked by the largest field that has ever gone to the post in this event, the starters numbering fifteen. There is a chance this season that this record may at last be broken, as the sixty-eight entries for the event this year are from all accounts doing well in training for the big race, and in no previous year has the stake been regarded as quite so open as it is this year, with all the noted juvenile winners of 1914 eligible to it.

There are many points of difference in the first Kentucky Derby and the rich stake as run today. In 1875 the weights carried were 100 pounds for colts and 97 for fillies and geldings. The distance was then one mile and a half, and the start was effected on the side of the track where the grandstand is now located at the Downs. The track was then so narrow that it was necessary to divide the field of fifteen starters into two sections, and the presumed poorest of the starters were given the advantage of the front position. The three placed horses were Aristides, Volcano and Verdigris and all this trio were in the front division at the start. The gray colt, Pasteur, a son of Enquirer, ran a wonderful race in the first Kentucky Derby, though the racing guides told no story of his brilliant performance. He was one of those started in the rear division and, after meeting with much bad luck in the race, finished lapped on the three placed horses.

Later racing proved that the best horse had won, but those who watched the race close that afternoon were fully satisfied that with an even break Enquirer would have beaten Aristides in the big race that day. The gray colt was ridden in the Derby by Cyrus H. Hollower, who afterwards became famous in California as a trainer and jockey for E. J. Bald, win. Enquirer was one of the hard luck horses of the turf. Later on in his career he all but beat Ten Broeck in a wonderfully run race and had he possessed the size of a really well developed horse, he would doubtless have been one of the great winners of all time. His dwarfed growth was owing to having been raised as a colt in a pen with mules and when sold by his breeder he only fetched $90. When his racing career ended as a four-year-old he was sold into Texas and some of the thoroughbred stock in that state of the day have his cross in their pedigrees. He, with Bill Bruce and Searcher, first brought Enquirer into prominence as a sire and they, too, started in the first Kentucky Derby, the latter being ridden in the race by Raleigh Colston, who is still alive and who later was a successful trainer of horses.

The first Kentucky Derby had only $1,000 added to the stake in marked contrast to today, when the added prize is $10,000. When Aristides won the race the event was worth only $2,850 net to the winner, the subscribers to the first Derby being paid $50 per head. Then the second horse received only $200 and no prize went to the third horse. This season the second horse gets $2,000 and the third horse $1,000, while even the fourth horse saves his fees of $225.

when it came time for the big race the track was lumpy. Twelve owners tried for the rich prize, and Sir Huon, a three-year-old, with 118 pounds up, which was the weight to every other horse in the race, which resulted in victory for Mr. Long's horse by three-quarters of a length over Dutch Barbara, which was five lengths in front of John Carroll. It was only in the final sixteenth that Sir Huon managed to get to the front. The race netted him winner $9,825.

The following year a mediocre horse from the east came on and won the event so easily that the Latonia Jockey Club management decided it was not worth while to continue the stake. The class of horses racing in the east was vastly superior to race in 1907 looked at that time. The winner of the race in 1907 belonged to the late James McCornick, one of the shrewdest trainers in America in his day. McCornick later went abroad and trained for Baron Oppenheim, one of the leading owners in Germany. He died a few years back. The winner of the race that year was Tiling, a three-year-old colt by Hastings-Eutile. McCornick executed quite a coup when he shipped Tiling to Latonia and got away with the race. Tiling arrived on the morning of the race. In the car with him came McCornick, "Skeets" Garner and a stable hand. The bookmakers did not think the long journey from New York would help Tiling and they took liberties with him, laying from 7 to 10 to 1 against his chances. McCornick quietly slipped through the ring and bet $1,000 on his horse at these prices. Planting and Pasadena were the favorites for the race. Old Phil Finch got away to a good start and set the pace to the quarter post, where Pasadena took up the running and loomed up like the winner. Coming down the stretch Tiling drew up with Pasadena and went on to victory by a good length. McCornick at once loaded the horse on the cars and returned to the east. In addition to the $8,000 or $10,000 that he won in wagers on the race McCornick received $8,275, which was the winner's share of the stakes.

The next $10,000 stake to be run in Kentucky was the first Kentucky Handicap at Douglas Park, in which Rudolf defeated the great Ten Point. This was the first running of the big race and it netted $12,150 to the winner, and also resulted in a new track record at Douglas Park, the mile and a quarter being run in 2:05 1/2. In this race Any Port finished third and the track could not be considered fast, for a shower had immediately preceded the running of the race.

In the fall of that year Pandorina won the four mile Kentucky Endurance Stakes, and last spring Luke McLuke, a three-year-old, defeated Rudolf and Solar Star in the Kentucky Handicap. This year the best horses in training in America will meet in the Kentucky Handicap. Roamer and Luke McLuke did not settle the question of supremacy at last, for Luke McLuke went wrong and was retired. This spring they will have a chance to demonstrate how they compare with the best horses in the world. Last year Harmonicon was considered the best sprinter in England. He is entered for the Kentucky Handicap this season. He is American-bred, so in no sense can he be considered an English horse, but Kentucky racing devotees will have a chance to compare horses as they race in America and as they race in England if he comes to all his engagements.

John W. Schorr, having once tasted the fruits of victory in such a stake, does not intend to let it get away from him if he can prevent it. He is the heaviest nominator for the race, having sent in the names of six horses, Robert L. Baker, of Lexington, who is coming into prominence as an owner, is also not after the rich purse. He has made five nominations.

FAVORITES BOWLED OVER

JUAREZ FIELDS ARE SMALLER, BUT PUBLIC
FAILS TO PICK ANY WINNERS.

Joe Blair Is Victim of Bad Racing Luck in Day's Feature and Fails to Place, Purse Going to Im-perator in Hot Drive with Grapeshot.

El Paso, Tex., March 27.—The patrons of racing at Juarez this afternoon enjoyed a respite from the big and unwieldy fields that have been the rule at the Mexican course for some time past, but the public found the winners hard to pick, nevertheless. An allowance race at five-eighths of a mile that brought together such speedy sprinters as Joe Blair, Imperator, King Worth, Grapeshot and Roadmaster was the outstanding feature of the day's racing. Joe Blair was regarded as having the purse at his mercy, but he was the victim of bad luck in the early part of the race on account of having an inner rail position, and was compelled to fall back out of contention. Grapeshot set a sizzling pace all the way and it was only in the last stride that the well-backed third choice, Imperator, got up to win by a nose. The race was run in 58 1/2.

Not a favorite was numbered among the winners. Kall-Iula was generally looked upon as the probable winner of the opening race, but was easily beaten by Phyllis Antoinette, the second choice. Ella, Patrotie and Barnard were heads apart in the order named at the finish of the second. Emelda was the favorite and was never prominent. Another close finish marked the third, in which Tower acted as pacemaker and lasted to beat Doc Allen by a neck. Pay Streak, whose recent form has been anything but good, was installed first choice for this race, and ran as dismally as in his recent starts.

Battler Ball was looked upon as best of those engaged in the fifth, but this was the last in which he could do. Ann Tilly and Quid Nunc being placed ahead of him as named. The sixth saw both the favorite and the second choice, Palenda and Bonnie's Back, unplaced at the finish. Dalsion won the purse in a drive with Orling. Pile of Lismore completed the list of the day's beaten favorites. He ran as solidly last in the closing dash, which went to the credit of Marie O'Brien.

The stewards have refused the further entry of Pay Streak, as he has developed into a confirmed bleeder.

Marie O'Brien was bid up from $300 to $500 by R. Jarette, a former bookmaker, and became his property.

Mose Newman, a brother to Hart Newman, paid his first visit to the course this season. He intends to enjoy the racing until he can get away in the spring. Salvation, which was mated last season to some of the choicest mares owned by A. E. Sprackels and is still at the Napa Stud, where he will end his days. Salvation is now 23 years old, which is just the age his famous sire, Salvator, was when the latter died at Elmendorf Stud in Kentucky.

The famous California breeder secured the grandson of imported Prince Charlie in order to obtain some fillies for future broodmares on blood lines which have made breeding successes for more than a century. Although Salvation has already lived as long as his noted sire, he is still a vigorous horse and promises to be effective for a year or two yet to come. Horses appear to live longer in the far west than they do in Kentucky and, judging by Salvation's present condition, he may not pass away for several years. Trainer C. W. Carroll shipped the Sprackels stable to Maryland from here this spring instead of to Kentucky as he contemplated doing when he brought the string to Juarez from California. He ended any hopes of account older than two years old in the stable, he would have gone to Louisville, but as he has 22 youngsters in charge he went east with the expectation of weeding out the stable and retaining only about half a dozen of them to make up the three-year-old division of this big racing aggregation in 1916. There are annuals raised at Napa Farm a big band of colts and fillies and, as they are all trained and raced each season by their owner, every year there must be a goodly number disposed of to make room for the new members of the stable. The biggest racing stable now representing California, the American turf.

Cal Crum, a five-year-old gelding by Stem Winder, now running here, is conceded to be the smallest mature horse in training. He stands scarcely 14 hands, one inch high and is built on the lines of a miniature horse all over. So small is this gelding that he does not even come up to the requirements of polo pony racing for the reason that he is so slight of frame that he would be unable to carry the required weight.

Spence, who had to undergo a severe operation recently, is now mending rapidly and will soon be able to leave for Kentucky, in the opinion of the doctor attending him. The few horses he still has racing here will remain until the end of the meeting and are being looked after for the Missouri Handicap. The biggest racing stable now representing California, the American turf. J. F. Keith and what horses he will race from now on will be owned by himself, with the exception of those of W. J. Weber, owners that will remain in his stable. Spence hears good reports of the condition of his crack four-year-old, Hodges, from the gelding's training grounds in Kentucky and he looks for that son of Ivan the Terrible to approach this season his record as a two-year-old in 1913, when he won no less than fifteen races.

The report that jockey J. Callahan intends to quit the saddle is incorrect, as he contemplates riding before the present Juarez meeting comes to a close. While he has become interested in a business venture in this city, he has a partner in his investment and has no intention of quitting the track as long as he can ride at his present light weight. He has about recovered from the effects of his recent injury and expects to begin exercising horses to get back into riding condition within the next ten days. Callahan has made quite a record in the saddle in the last six years, during which period he has won 316 races. He is still able to ride at less than one hundred pounds.

HAYANA MEETING TO CLOSE APRIL 5.

Havana, Cuba, March 27.—The track at Oriental Park was in a bit better condition today than it was on Thursday. Four of the six purses went to first choices, these including Our Ren, Elsewhere, Tiger Jim and Wolf's Butts.

The fight between Jack Johnson and Jess Willard, which had been scheduled to take place at Oriental Park on April 4 for the heavyweight championship of the world, has been postponed until Monday, April 5. To conform with the arrangement the management of Oriental Park announced today that April 5 would be the closing day of the race meeting.

The postponement was due to a request made by President Menocal of Cuba. In a letter to the fight promoters he said that great objection had arisen in Cuba and the United States to the fight taking place on Easter Sunday, and he requested that the event be postponed until the day following. A meeting of the principals and promoters was at once held and the request of President Menocal was acceded to.

Steve Lawler, with the Quincey Stable, and Jack Goldsborough, with the Foxhall Keene and Andrew Miller horses, will stop off here, while the Butler horses, in charge of trainer Dick Benson, will be sent on to Louisville.

Senator J. N. Camden today secured second call on Jockey Walter Taylor, who is under contract for the season to R. L. Baker.

Jockey Mac will ride for W. L. Lewis during the Kentucky meetings.

Trainer Jack Adkins confirms the report that jockey George Archibald has been signed by R. J. Mackenzie to ride the Mackenzie and Adkins horses this year.

THIRTEEN HORSES IN A. BAKER'S STRING.

Lexington, Ky., March 27.—One of the strongest stables of horses in training at the Kentucky Association track is that over which "Jack" Baker is the directing spirit. His horses are not so forward, perhaps, as are some in other stables, but they are all good. The fact that the string numbers thirteen does not seem to be considered a "fix" by this capable trainer, though he admits he has some doubt as to whether the oldest individual in the barn will stand training. That is the veteran Joe Morris, son of Peep O'Day and Hanoverine, now eight years old. Joe Morris has not been to the post since May 29, 1912, at Douglas Park, but there is a chance that after his long rest he may be good for a few more brackets.

Cream, the chestnut daughter of Electioneer and Ambrosia, now five years old, is the next oldest member of the string, while the four-year-olds number four—John Gund, Constant, Dr. Samuel and Father Riley, the first named three finishing one-two-three in the Latonia Derby last spring. The three-year-olds are Emerson Cochran, Pif, Jr., and McAdoo, the first named two being candidates for the Kentucky Derby and the Latonia Derby. They are also eligible to the rich Kentucky Handicap, as are John Gund, Constant and Dr. Samuel. The latter is the stable's entry for the Camden Handicap, which is to be a feature of the Lexington meeting and Father Riley Park, but there is a chance that after his long rest he may be good for a few more brackets.

The four two-year-olds in the stable are likely-looking youngsters. The candidate for the Breeders' Futurity, which is to be a feature of the local meeting and the richest stake of the year in Kentucky for juveniles, is J. C. Stone, a chestnut colt by Peep O'Day—Prairie Belle. He is named for the manager of the Lexington Tobacco Warehouse Association's several big plants, King Gorin, a chestnut colt by Transval—Ethel Simpson, is eligible for the Idle Hour Stakes, another feature of the Lexington meeting. Hops, a chestnut colt by Hastings—Crimea, is named for W. H. Laudeman, supervisor of betting on the Kentucky tracks. John Bunny, a bay colt, a Galveston—Adapt, will compete for the famous fellow who furnished so much fun for film fans. Jockey Walter Taylor will do the bulk of the riding for the stable. He is here and is at the track every morning bright and early to exercise the horses.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

The stables of P. S. P. Randolph and William Oliver have been shipped from Lakewood, N. J., to Bowie.

Some of the horses at both Sheepshead Bay and Gravesend have been coughing recently, but no reports of serious illness have been made.

Jockey Roscoe Troxler has returned to New York from Havana.

The Shoshone Stable's three-year-old Hanterk has gone from Belmont Park to Bowie. Hanterk is the only member of the Shoshone Stable that will compete on the flat this spring. Election Bet having turned jumper.

George Archibald has been signed up to ride for R. J. Mackenzie during the coming season. The Canadian turfman's horses are now in Kentucky being fitted by J. D. Adkins, and the present plan is to race them there during the early part of the season at least.

Jacobson and Straug have sold the seven-year-old horse Idleweiss, by Meltonian—Villa V., to Prof. Honore F. Laine of Havana, Cuba. Professor Laine has bought a number of thoroughbred mares and will mate them with Idleweiss to establish the pioneer family of Cuban-bred thoroughbreds.

Jockey H. Sumter has arrived at Sheepshead Bay from Havana. It is likely that Sumter will ride for the stable trained by William H. Karrick this year. This string is composed of the thoroughbreds owned by H. K. Knapp, Schuyler L. Parsons and Francis R. Hitchcock.

John Hastings has arrived at Belmont Park with a string of jumpers. The horses, among whom is the four-year-old gelding Carliston—Adapt, will compete for a strenuous season through the field as soon as Superintendent Pelz completes the refurbishing of the steeplechase course. Robert Gerry's string of jumpers has also arrived at Belmont Park.

CAPT. PAT CARMODY DIES AT ST. LOUIS.

St. Louis, Mo., March 27.—Capt. Patrick J. Carmody, civil war veteran and prominent race horse owner, died here last night at the age of 79. He was a native of Ireland, but came to America at an early age. He enlisted in the Union Army as a private and was promoted two years later to the rank of captain.

In 1865 Captain Carmody was one of the leaders of the Fenian movement and for two years was chief of police at Niagara Falls.

He was interested in the Union Park race track, which operated in opposition to the Fair Grounds and Kinloch tracks. Some years ago he fully attempted to attempt to remove the Mississippi River trade in steamboats. His wife died last year.
